Calling All Creative People! Get Your Camera on PATH400

All are invited to submit photos; Finalists to be displayed at Lenox Square

October 8, 2015 – ATLANTA – The first phase of PATH400 is celebrating its first fall season, and Livable Buckhead is looking to the public to help show the colors of autumn on the trail.

With temperatures cooling off and the foliage on the PATH400 greenway starting to show the hues of a new season, it's a perfect time to head out to the greenway with your camera. For the month of October, Livable Buckhead will be searching for the best image of the greenway to be highlighted in the annual holiday card. Finalists will have their photographs printed and displayed at Lenox Square throughout the Holiday Season.

"Everyone loves of the vibrancy of the changing of the seasons and what better way to highlight the natural beauty along the PATH400 greenway than through the lens of photography," said Denise Starling, executive director of Livable Buckhead. "Everyone from the amateur with an iPhone in their pocket to the professional is welcome. We look forward to seeing this community asset through their eyes."

The photo contest is open to everyone. Contest guidelines include:

- Abstract as well as literal imagery is encouraged.
- Photos must be taken along the greenway.
- No religious, political, derogatory or otherwise offensive content will be permitted.
- All entries must include the photographer's name.
- No entries will be accepted after 5 p.m. on November 1st, 2015.
- Entries must be high resolution digital files, suitable for printing.
- Email your entries to scott@livablebuckhead.org
- You may submit as many photos as you like.

Come to Lenox Square throughout the Holiday Season to view the finalists!

Judging, Awards & Notification

Entries will be judged on originality and visual appeal. The top 10 entries will be and displayed for an extended period of time. The selected winner will be recognized with their submitted photograph incorporated into Livable Buckhead's annual holiday card, with the artist's name recognized.
